

Name: Thomas S Jessen, JD

Weill Cornell Medicine – Radiology Informatics

Brief Bio:

Thomas is a healthcare informaticist specializing in diagnostic imaging. He has worked with healthcare organizations across the United States including the Veterans Administration, United States Air Force, Kaiser Permanente, New York Presbyterian Hospitals, University of California, University of Washington and University of Utah.

Thomas managed the CMS Medicare Demonstration Project at Weill Cornell Medical College and the University of Pennsylvania from 2010 through 2014. He joined the Weill Cornell Medical College informatics team in 2014 working on Clinical Decision Support, Imaging Workflow and Change Management Strategies.

Education;

Bachelor of Arts, University of Nebraska

Juris Doctorate, San Francisco Law School